Preface

Milkiyah is a journal published in February and August with six articles per issue presenting research articles and conceptual papers.

This journal is published by Sekolah Tinggi Agama Islam Negeri Majene under the Study Program of Sharia Economic Law in collaboration with the Association of Study Programmes and Lecturers of Indonesian Sharia Economic Law referred to as POSDHESI and the Professional Organization of Islamic Business and Economics known as FORDEBI.

Focus and Scope

The manuscripts may represent a variety of theoretical perspectives and different methodological approaches focusing on Islamic law for economics and business, socio-economic development, and societal well-being through activities and discourses of Islamic economics and finance. This journal seeks to inform, among others, current theoretical and empirical research and practice under Islamic principles, and to promote accountability, socio-economic justice (adl) and everlasting success (al-falah).

Subject areas suitable for publication include:

- Sharia Law for Economics and Business, such as Islamic jurisprudence, contracts, arbitration and product innovation
- Law for Islamic Banking and Finance
- Islamic Business and Economics for theory, practice, and society
- Islamic philanthropy, Waqf, Microfinancing, Zakat, Sadaqah, and Infaq

This journal is encompassed by editors on 4 continents (Asia, Australia, Europe, and Africa) including 3 different regions (Indonesia, Thailand, and United Kingdom).
